

A Tiny Seed

By Dr. Maggie Allen

I plant a tiny seed,
Deep into the ground.
I pour some water on
And gently pat it down.

I watch it every day
And wait for it to grow.
I watch the sun shine on it,
But it grows so slow!

The soil provides its food,
The sun provides its light.
I water every day
A little bit, just right.

I watch it every day,
And wait for it to grow.
And finally, it happens,
A sprout begins to show!
