

January 2010

Dear Teachers,

HAPPY NEW YEAR!!!

I hope all of you have had some wonderful family times as well as some time for yourself to "recharge your batteries."

This first month of a brand new year, we get back down to work with our primary students. You may wish to help children reflect on this new year with renewed self-acceptance and awareness of talents and accomplishments. You also may want to establish classroom New Year's resolutions as a way to set goals and review rules and expectations.

This month's offerings include an assortment of winter weather songs, activities, and ideas. Pick and choose the ones that fit your students' needs and levels. (If you like the activities and want more, refer to the information on the bottom of the activities. Books may be ordered from the Gift Shop on this web site.)

Let's enjoy this first month of a brand new year and vow to help each child "come alive in 2010" socially, emotionally, and academically!

Sincerely,

Dr. Maggie

P.S.

Did y'all read that down here in South Texas, we had SNOW for Christmas?!!!

What a WOW for us! Most of our kids have only fantasized about snow. Now they have schema for all of these wonderful January snow tales and activities!!!
